THE VERSATILITY AND BRILLIANCE OF ROCK

Sami Chohfi is a dual American and Brazilian citizen whose professional music career began 15 years ago. Influenced by the 90s movement and legends like The Beatles, his music is a blend of alt rock, hard rock, and acoustic folk rock.

A multi-instrumentalist, singer and songwriter, Sami doesn't just play guitar, but also bass, drums, ukulele, and didgeridoo. His versatility and ease of moving between various instruments and styles motivated him to move to Seattle, where he formed his first band, Blue Helix, which came to Brazil for their first tour in 2018 for a series of rock shows. He began his solo career in 2019, and his connection with Brazil remained stronger than ever. Sami has since toured five times to Brazil feeding off the success from his infectious radio singles spun on renowned stations like Kiss FM, 89FM A Rádio Rock, and Antena 1. His hits have already reached more than 45 thousand plays just on Brazilian FM radios.

In addition to Brazil, Sami has taken his tours to the United States, Japan, Singapore, India, the Philippines, Cambodia, and Armenia where thousands of fans attend his electrifying performances of tracks from his extensive rock catalog. He brings an explosive performance to the stage, with an intensity that reminds concert goers of bands like Aerosmith and the Foo Fighters, loaded with lots of fun engagement with his crowd.
